Muted near-term, sound mid-term prospects; chg est & PT

Topic: Surteco reported a good Q1 but also withdrew its FY20 guidance given increased corona related headwinds from Q2 onwards. Remains a HOLD until visibility increases on the successful execution on its mid-term targets, which would yield upside to street estimates.

Q1 sales decreased 6% yoy to € 171.6m (-1.5% organically) as Profiles (+8% yoy to € 26.6m) was able to partially offset weaker demand within Decoratives (-4% yoy to 125.7m) and Technicals (-30% yoy to € 19.3m, -5% organically). At the same time, EBIT improved by 16% yoy to € 13.4m stemming from (i) a slimmer fix cost base thanks to last year's head count reduction, (ii) higher utilization rates until the middle of March and (iii) beneficial raw material developments.

Despite the good start into the year, management withdrew its initial FY 20 guidance of € 675 to 700m sales and € 40-45m EBIT as the company started to feel a sharp pick up of headwinds towards the end of the first quarter. Importantly, Surteco's balance sheet coupled with tight working capital/capex management should be sufficient to weather the corona storm.

In the mid-term, the new CEO expects to improve Surteco's profitability, resulting in an EBIT of € 55 to 65m, which should yield upside to our and consensus estimates (~ € 46m by 22E). The successful execution on those targets is dependent on:

- Ongoing internal consolidation of underutilized/inefficient production sites coupled with further selective headcount reductions
- Decreasing dependency on wood-based materials and the furniture industry by strengthening its Profiles and Technicals business, potentially also through bolt-on acquisitions
- Improving its geographical presence in underpenetrated regions (i.e. Asia)

Action: We cut estimates to reflect the corona related subdued consumer sentiment, which should also carry into 2021E.

With so far limited visibility as to when and if Surteco's management will be able to execute on its mid-term targets, valuation remains fair and we hence reiterate HOLD with a decreased € 22 PT based on DCF.

4. Information Concerning the Methods of Valuation/Update

The determination of the fair value per share, i.e. the price target, and the resultant rating is done on the basis of the adjusted free cash flow (adj. FCF) method and on the basis of the discounted cash flow – DCF model. Furthermore, a peer group comparison is made.

The adj. FCF method is based on the assumption that investors purchase assets only at a price (enterprise value) at which the operating cash flow return after taxes on this investment exceeds their opportunity costs in the form of a hurdle rate of 7.5%. The operating cash flow is calculated as EBITDA less maintenance capex and taxes.

Within the framework of the DCF approach, the future free cash flows are calculated initially on the basis of a fictitious capital structure of 100% equity, i.e. interest and repayments on debt capital are not factored in initially. The adjustment towards the actual capital structure is done by discounting the calculated free cash flows with the weighted average cost of capital (WACC), which takes into account both the cost of equity capital and the cost of debt. After discounting, the calculated total enterprise value is reduced by the interest-bearing debt capital in order to arrive at the equity value.

Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG uses the following three-step rating system for the analysed companies:

Buy: Sustainable upside potential of more than 10% within 12 months
Sell: Sustainable downside potential of more than 10% within 12 months.
Hold: Upside/downside potential is limited. No immediate catalyst visible.

NB: The ratings of Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG are not based on a performance that is expected to be "relative" to the market.
